

Classification

There is more than 10 million species of animals on Earth.	Scientists grouped these animals into smaller groups until there was only 1 left in the group.	Carl Linnaeus loved Botany which is the study of plants.
Carl Linnaeus invented the Linnaeus system which is a way of classifying living things.	Different groups of animals have different characteristics	It is hard to classify the platypus because it has features of mammals, reptiles and bird.

--	--	--